

ColumbiaSoft's Document Locator Named a “Top 100 Collection Technology Product”

Document management capabilities improve efficiency and help collections agencies maintain compliance with regulations

Portland, Ore. – Jan. 3, 2008. ColumbiaSoft, a leading provider of enterprise-class Document Management solutions, announced that its product Document Locator was recognized as a “Top 100 Collection Technology Product” for 2007. The award was presented by Collection Advisor magazine and announced during a Reader’s Choice Award Reception at the TECH’07 trade show held recently in Las Vegas, Nevada.

“All of the companies honored in the Top 100 Collection Technology Products represent the best of the best in the collection software and service marketplace,” says Editor T. Allen Rose. “On behalf of the magazine, we are very pleased to bestow this honor on these very worthy companies.”

Document Locator provides document management and records management capabilities that help collections agencies improve operational efficiency while adhering to compliance standards. Using Document Locator, collections agents can search and retrieve information faster to improve response times and communication accuracy. Collections agencies are able to maintain compliance with industry and government regulations such as PPMS, Sarbanes-Oxley, HIPAA, and more.

The selection of Document Locator to be in the Top 100 list was made on the basis of coverage in the Collection Advisor Magazine, software performance, and nominations from the field.

Document Locator was featured in a Top 5 Document Management Software Review in the March/April 2007 of Collection Advisor. It will be included in a comprehensive list of all Top 100 Collection Technology Products in the January/February 2008 issue of the magazine.
