ColumbiaSoft Continues Eight Year Partnership with Microsoft

Leading document management software company extends reach through ongoing relationship with global software giant.

Portland, Ore. – February 22, 2011 – ColumbiaSoft, a leading provider of electronic document management software announced today that it has renewed its relationship with Microsoft. ColumbiaSoft is now a Gold Independent Software Vendor (ISV) in the Microsoft Partner Network. As a member of this network, ColumbiaSoft works with Microsoft to create innovative solutions in areas of information management and document control that drive profitability and sustain competitive advantage for clients. In addition, ColumbiaSoft is an Independent Software Vendor Reseller (ISVr), authorized to sell Microsoft software to its clients.

ColumbiaSoft's Document Locator product seamlessly integrates a full complement of electronic document management capabilities within the Microsoft Windows environment, making the system easy-to-use. The company has also been part of Microsoft's Front Runner program, designed to assist and recognize Microsoft ISVs like ColumbiaSoft who are early-adopters and are developing on the very latest Microsoft technologies. Document Locator is certified for compatibility with 64-bit and 32-bit Windows 7.

David Pogue, ColumbiaSoft executive vice president said, "Most businesses rely on Windows-based functionality, and since our Windows document management system is so fully-integrated, it fits naturally within existing methods of how people use computers. The familiar setting makes adaptation simple, while enhancing business productivity. Our relationship with Microsoft is a cornerstone of what we do – Microsoft-based document management."
