

ColumbiaSoft Successfully Completes SOC 2 Type II Security Audit for Document Locator

SOC 2 Type II certification validates Document Locator as a trusted document control system for the secure management of information.

Portland, Ore. – October 25, 2022 – ColumbiaSoft, a leader in document control for quality and compliance, has successfully completed the Service Organization Control (SOC) 2 Type II audit for its document control software system, Document Locator. The independent audit conducted by Control Logics certifies that ColumbiaSoft’s business practices, including its policies, procedures, and operations meet the highest standards of security, availability, processing integrity, and confidentiality.

Independent SOC 2 validation is critical for ColumbiaSoft’s customers across all industries, and especially those in highly regulated areas where quality and compliance are a concern. The comprehensive audit spanned several months and shows that ColumbiaSoft meets the standards of the American Institute of CPAs (AICPA). Compliance was achieved with the expert consulting of ISSQUARED, a market-leading provider of IT Consulting, Cybersecurity, Cloud, IT Infrastructure, and Managed IT Services.

“ColumbiaSoft’s SOC certification was made all the more straightforward using their own Document Locator software to manage policies, procedures, quality manuals, and log reporting,” said ISSQUARED’s SVP Cloud Services John Charles.

Businesses use Document Locator to consistently manage documents that are essential for their own quality and compliance initiatives. Specialized document control functions, including managing revision levels of documents, user roles, electronic approvals, audit logging, required reading, digital signatures with DocuSign or Adobe Acrobat Sign, and comprehensive reporting empowers quality managers and document control professionals to advance their own compliance with programs for ISO, FDA, food safety, SOC, and more.
